Our Credibility

- 5 years. Proven outcomes that are still sustained. Trusted by Black women.
- We know what works — and we've shown it.
- Data is clear: Black women that have a cultural experience with health information folded in receive it comfortably, retain it better, and are more willing to implement it beyond the experience.

When we create spaces of belonging for Black women to gather, they gain multifaceted health: physical, economic, emotional, and it is more likely to become generational.
